

Hello.

I'm Sharlene. Often in really hard situations, it's shame or fear that drives us. It feels lonely and we can't see our way through. Having a friend helps. I want to be the same encouragement and support that I received when I thought things were hopeless.

